

A morning of treats in exchange for some feats!

If you're free on the morning of Sunday 4 May why not bring yourself (and your friends and family too), for a visit to the Dog Rocks Flora and Fauna Sanctuary. Come and help BFS Landcare continue its work pulling the invasive bone seed weed which helps us preserve the rich diversity of animals and plants there. We promise you a morning you won't forget and the lucky ones will take home a prize.

No. 1 Treat – Martin Scuffins, the award winning artist and conservationist, will present an illustrated talk 'Nursing the Fierce – caring for predatory birds', in the home of Lit and George Belcher. We have all seen these amazing birds of prey gliding over the Batesford area in search of food. Martin cares for injured birds at Hawk Haven and will explain the importance of raptors to the biodiversity and health of our planet – our home. Have a look at www.martinscuffins.com

No. 2 Treat – lucky ticket prizes!

From Martin Scuffins Art and Music

- Wedge-tailed Eagle limited edition print
- Folk Music CD Hawks and Eagles
- Classy Wedge-tailed Eagle iPhone 5 case

No. 3 Treat – Your work will be rewarded with morning tea and lunch for those who wish to stay on. So come and help us for a couple of hours and we'll reward you.
